

Data Analytics at Munich Re

Dr. Fabian Winter Head of Business Analytics March 2018

The Munich Re Group

Munich Re (Gruppe)¹

Munich RE 臺

Rückversicherung

MEAG

Key figures Annual Report 2016

Gross premiums written

48.9 €bn

Operating result

4,025 €m

Consolidated result (after tax)

2,581 _{€m}

Shareholders' equity

31.8 €bn

Return on equity

8.1 in %

Munich Re is present in all markets

Munich Re has a high expertise in several lines of business

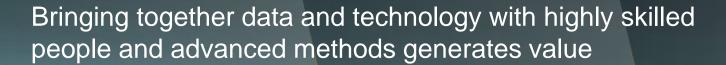

Munich Re actively shapes the transformation of the (re-)insurance industry

Data & Technology

Skills & Methods

Value

Munich Re's business model requires the full range of analytical methods

EXPLAIN THE PAST

Standard reporting

What happened?

Descriptive Analyses

Sum, max, min, average, count

Ad Hoc OLAP

Statistics

Why did it happen?

Distribution theory. correlation analysis

PREDICT THE FUTURE

Fore-casting

What will happen?

Time series theory, stochastic processes

Classical predictive models

To whom will it happen?

Regression models. decision trees Machine learning

To whom will it happen?

Random forests.

Artificial Intelligence

To whom will it happen?

Neural networks

Munich RE

Analytics @ Munich Re

Analytics Suite

Comprehensive Data Analytics Platform for primary health insurers

Munich RE

M.IN.D. Risk Management Platform for NatCat Pools

RESULTS Loss Adjuster 0 Risk Management 111 M.I.N.D. lıı. Reporting Analytics Hazards Exposure

BENEFITS

- From "no information" to "all information at once"
- Maximum transparency on all exposures
- Database allows in-depth trend detection
- Faster & more effective claims management

Do you have any questions?

Skills & Methods

Value